BISHOP HAMILTON

other influences have led to a greater falling away from Rome than her natural increase gains for her. I do not say that this is a good thing. The first generation of apostates affiliate with no church, and float about as derelicts until they are picked up by some other denomination eventually. But these are the facts.

"Well, then, that brings me back to the first proposition, that with this westward trend of civilization and progress Honolulu is at the crossroads of all the great highways of the world. The tide of progress must wash at your gates as it goes by. The western pushing outward of the Christian tides looks to the east past Honolulu, and the eastern people look to the westward. In either outlook, stand these islands. The shortest way from the rim of a circle across it is through the center—and you are at the center.

"It has been estimated that the counties that border upon the Pacific contain about three-fourths of the total population of the whole world. Already you have steamship lines reaching to San Francisco and to China and Japan and Australia, and the Southern Islands. It has been said in the newspapers within the past few days that the steamship lines from Seattle, operating the largest vessels on the Pacific, will find themselves compelled by the position of these islands to send their boats down this way. They cannot overlook you.

LOS ANGELES A WINNER.

"The newspapers have likewise spoken of a steamship line to be operated between Honolulu and San Pedro. San Pedro means Los Angeles, and that line will strike the trade of San Francisco at a vulnerable spot, because those steamers will give a shorter line between the Orient and Chicago than the lines via San Francisco, over the Salt Lake railway. This will open a new line of travel, nevertheless, I believe that San Francisco will hold its supremacy and that the tremendous race movement to the westward will come through that port, which is to be the world's next great city. Los Angeles will excel Seattle, however. It has already gone ahead of it, as the clearing house returns for the past year will show. This is the test and Los Angeles exceeded Seattle by over one hundred millions of dollars.

"With these lines of travel centering here and bound to center here, with the line that will grow from the trade necessities, the lumber trade between Alaska and the Australian colonies, from Valdez or Seward, straight away to the southward, with one line that I predict will run from Vladivostok across the Pacific via Honolulu, and lastly when the Panama Canal opens entirely new maps of travel with Honolulu in the direct line of the ships, you can see that if you had not a resource of your own here, but only depended upon the trade of the ships, the supplies and that, this would inevitably become a great center of trade and commerce. Why, even the line from Cape Horn touches close to these islands. This is the most remote island spot from any other land, and the cable is here. All the steamers that cross the Pacific must stop at Honolulu to report and to get orders.

RICH NATURAL RESOURCES.

"And more than that, there are your natural resources of surpassing richness. You do not raise the bulk of the sugar of the world, but one of the greatest sugar industries of the world is here, and your methods are the most advanced and your soil the most productive. The climatic conditions are perfect, and you can build here the greatest sanitariums of the world for invalids who require an equable temperature and freedom from climatic rigors. This is even a better climate than that of Southern California, for you do not have the cold fogs nor the raw days that they do occasionally.

"Naturally, when this becomes more widely known, there will be a draw of tourists here. This tide is already setting in. There are many people now coming to Hawaii, and there will be more when people get over their terrors of a sea voyage, which after all is less to be feared here at most times than in the North Atlantic.

"I believe that the day is coming when there will be cheaper fares to Hawaii, when the round trip can be made for, say, seventy-five dollars—and then the people out of the middle west who are seeking for a milder climate in California will come a little further and slip over here. There can be no doubt that the great bulk of the American people do not know what we have in these islands. The tide of travel, among Americans who have wealth and leisure, is toward the old world now, and not out this way. When the larger knowledge is diffused among the masses, as it must be done by a number of men working toward the same end, this will be changed and you and I will live to see the tide turned.

"Why, even the Congress of the United States does not yet appreciate the larger possession, and we must explode some dynamite there to get them fitted to legislate for the whole broad country instead of for a small part of it. The leaders of thought, the men of knowledge, are in the minority as yet.

COLLEGE FOR INVALIDS.

"When the tide turns this way, this would be an ideal place for the establishment of a great college for the education of children of feeble health who can not thrive in the more rigorous latitudes. Wealthy parents would be more than glad to avail themselves of a college of this character.

"Certainly I believe that there is a great future for these islands. I am becoming more firmly convinced of it every day. And this, bear in mind, is not an off-hand talk, made for any purpose. I have talked in this way, so far, to nobody else. These are conclusions forced upon me by the logic of the inevitable trend of existing conditions.

Bishop Hamilton will remain in Honolulu until about the middle of February, and during his stay will visit all the islands and look after his church interests if possible. He will certainly visit the big island and remain for some time at the volcano.

PUBLIC AFFAIRS.

Governor Carter on Friday evening received a cablegram from Treasurer Campbell in New York, stating that he had disposed of the $750,000 issue of Hawaiian bonds, bearing 3 1/2 per cent. interest, at ninety-eight and an eighth (98 1/8). The net cost to the Territory is 3.66 per cent., the lowest price of any loan Hawaii has ever floated. Another advantage is that the Territory has the option reserved of taking payments as the money is needed, thus avoiding interest charges on idle cash in the treasury.

An appeal has been taken to the Supreme Court of the United States by the trustees of the American Board of Missions from the Hawaiian Supreme Court's decision against their claim of $15,000 for detention of the Lahainaluna school property.

The Philippine bill—reducing the tariff rates on Philippine tobacco and sugar from 75 per cent. to 25 per cent. of the Dingley rates, and placing all other goods from those islands on the free list—passed the House of Representatives by a vote of 258 to 71.

Delegate Kalaniana'ole has introduced bills in Congress appropriating $60,000 for a lighthouse at Mana Point, Hawaii; $40,000 for a light on Molokini Isle; $40,000 for a light at Kalaupapa, Molokai; $40,000 for a lighthouse depot at Honolulu; $150,000 for a lighthouse tender for Hawaii, Midway and Samoa, and $150,000 for a public building at Hilo. Secretary Wilson has promised the Delegate to consider the question of making a soil survey of some parts of the Hawaiian Islands, which would be followed by the sending of a tobacco culture expert here.

James B. Castle has received cable information from L. A. Thurston at Los Angeles, stating that negotiations for bringing Molokians here to settle on the Kapa and Hakalan lands were satisfactorily proceeding. M. A. Gonsalves & Co. have received a cablegram from their agent in the Azores, stating that the present season would be a favorable one to secure emigrants there for Hawaii. This is encouraging of success to Secretary Atkinson's mission.

President Pinkham of the Board of Health proposes a scheme of replacing the public wash houses rented to Chinese laundymen with a modernly equipped laundry. The Board of Health has consented to the granting of the water of Waianae valley, Molokai, to the American Sugar Co. for its stock ranch. If the Government grants the privilege, either by sale or lease, the company will do considerable work in developing the water. It had to abandon its original purpose of sugar planting on failing to develop sufficient water therefor.

Forest reserves indicated by Forester Hosmer have been recommended to the Governor for submission to a public meeting, which occupy nearly 10,000 acres in Kealia district, Kauai, and an area of 1300 acres of koa forested land at Honouliuli, Kona, Hawaii.

A new electric light plant costing $40,000 has been installed by the Government in Nuuanu valley. It is operated by the city water head.

J. E. Galt, Geo. W. Smith, M. P. Robinson, E. A. McInerney, A. B. Loebenstein and D. H. Case, delegates to Washington to promote the revenue refund bill, left in the Mongolia yesterday. W. O. Smith, chairman of delegation, arrived in Washington yesterday.

DEVELOPMENT AND PROGRESS.

Frank S. Dodge, superintendent of the Bishop estate, has in hand a considerable land improvement scheme upon the Kewalo flats. A contract has been made by the estate with the dredging company now engaged in harbor work, for the filling in of twelve acres of land on the Waikiki side of the sewer pumping station. At the same time the raising of the estate's populated area at Kakaako in the same vicinity will go ahead. The natives have accepted the offer made to them a few weeks ago, and began to raise their tenements five feet for the admission of material to fill the sites up to street grade. This work the estate does free.

Construction of the Waiahua branch of the Oahu Railway & Land Co. is making satisfactory progress, giving promise of being completed by the first of July as originally intended.

Incorporation papers for a national bank at Lahaina have been forwarded to Washington. Fifty per cent. of its subscribed capital of $25,000 has been paid up, and the officers are identical with those of the First National Bank of Waialuku, viz.: C. M. Cooke, president; C. D. Lufkin, vice-president; F. C. Atherton, cashier; P. C. Jones and C. H. Cooke, directors.

For some time past a commercial club to maintain lunch and reading rooms, on the plan of those in different mainland cities, has been discussed. John A. McCandless is now promoting the scheme.

An experiment in tobacco planting on land of the Hawaiian Agricultural Co. at Pahala, Hawaii, has resulted in the production of an article that is pronounced excellent for cigar-making purposes.

At the annual meeting of the Nahiku Rubber Co., Manager Anderson gave a very favorable report on the condition of the plantation. In spite of the prevalence of unusually bad weather at Nahiku, there are trees seven years old which, on being tapped, produced a yield for each tree of a little over a pound of rubber a year. The first commercial crop of rubber will be taken off in 1909.

The Chamber of Commerce is about to change its rooms in the Stangenwald building to a floor two stories higher, where more space will be had without an increase of rent. Meetings are to be held every two months, instead of three as formerly.

Dr. L. E. Cofer, chief quarantine officer, has volunteered a letter in praise of the Hawaiian climate to the Hawaii Promotion Committee, which will be issued as a folder for distribution, the conclusion of which reads: "This climate breeds happiness and laughter, a natural and appropriate reflection of the sunlight, rainbows and purple hills, and for those who enjoy such things—there's Hawaii."

PROPERTY, BUSINESS, ETC.

Will E. Fisher, auctioneer, yesterday sold the residence of the late John K. Wilder, with frontages on Beretania and Young streets, next to the Chinese consulate. It was bought, free of incumbrance, by Thieden & Williamson for W. E. and J. A. Young for $2900. The sale of six shares of Pearl City Fruit Co. was postponed for two weeks.

President J. A. Kennedy of the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Co. left in the Mongolia to place a contract for the building of a steamer of 1500 tons and 15 knots. It is intended for the Honolulu-Hilo route and, besides being bigger and faster than any steamer ever hitherto plying in inter-island waters, will be incomparably superior in comfort and style to the best of those now running here.

Among conveyances lately recorded are a deed from Kapiolani Estate, Ltd., to F. B. McStocker, trustee, of lands and buildings at Waialua, N. Kona, $5000; lease from W. A. Kinney to McBryde Sugar Co. of lands at Kalaheo, Kauai, 50 years paid, $14,000; release from F. A. Schaefer to J. A. Maguire, lands at Keahakea, Hamakua, $15,000; deed from Walker H. Bradley to James A. Gough, lot in Punahou college tract, $1300 and mortgage $1200.

J. O. Carter, executor of the will of T. J. Cummins, has filed final receipts showing four payments of $5831 each distributive shares. The final accounts of August Ahrens and F. W. Macfarlane, guardians of George Richardson, a minor, show the estate increased from $54,458 on Jan. 1, 1901, to $66,133 now at par ratings of securities.

James B. Gorman has filed a petition of voluntary bankruptcy for Kiley & Gorman and himself, the firm's liabilities being $2429 and his own $705, with no assets of either. Fred. M. Kiley, petitioner's partner, objects.

Jas. F. Morgan sold at auction for the U. S. A. authorities 2000 tons coal, damaged by heaving, to the Inter-Island Steamer Navigation Co. at $2 a ton.

Delegate Kalaniana'ole has introduced a bill to enable the Territory to sell certain movable property, particularly such as has become obsolete. The sale of an old harbor tugboat was declared void for lack of title in the Territory.

Olan Sugar Co. has installed three cane loaders. Seventeen hundred Japanese have struck on Olan Sugar Co. plantation. They were paid off yesterday but refused to leave the place. McCandless Bros. are sinking new artesian wells on Olan plantation.

Heavy southerly storms the past week have interfered with the inter-island steamers and interrupted wireless telegraph communication with the Island of
